Verification of Membership Eligibility Certification

Because membership in POPA Federal Credit Union is restricted to persons within certain employer groups and their family members, I understand it is necessary to verify my eligibility.

Notes:

- If eligible by relationship, Verification of Membership Eligibility must be completed and signed by the new member and qualifying/current member.
- If eligible by employer, call payroll department to verify eligibility or have supervisor verify badge, or official identification number at the appropriate department or agency.
- If eligible by same household, verify drivers license with same address as qualifying member (make copy to keep with membership card) or verify bill or statement with new member's name and same address as qualifying/current member.
